

NEW LOCATION

The PREVIEW BERLIN ART FAIR has once again discovered a fascinating event location in the city. In its ninth year, the art fair will utilise the opera workshops in Berlin for its international galleries from 19 to 22 September 2013.

With the relocation of the PREVIEW BERLIN ART FAIR, the art exhibition is being inspired by the artistic and creative tradition of opera workshops for the first time, transforming the location into a vibrant venue for contemporary art production. The opera workshops in Zinnowitzer Strasse were, until recently, a production facility for the huge sets of Berlin's renowned theatres and opera houses. The former painting halls, with their steel/glass roof structure, offer a unique spatial atmosphere. Under generous skylights, the international art scene will gather here in large, column-free spaces – an ideal location for the presentation and reception of art.

The proximity to the art district in Mitte and the central location between the Natural History Museum and Nordbahnhof station allow visitors convenient access and short travel distances during the BERLIN ART WEEK 2013.
